Monday, June 11. 1716.

Here, June 10.

AL. that we can learn yet of the new defensive Alliance between their Imperial and Britannick Majesties, amounts to this, that these two Potentates mutually engage themselves for Successors, that the one or the other shall be attacked. The said Successors are to consist of 1000 Men, whereof 4000 Horses, on the Part of the Emperor; and there is a Months Time given by this Treaty, for this State to enter into it. Which Term will be useful, not only in reason of the slow Proceedings inseparable from the Constitution of this Government in Matters of this Nature, but also, because of the Opposition that are to be furnished; notwithstanding that it is thought this State is obliged to come into it, by the 15th Article of the Treaty of Grand Alliance, which was concluded the 7th of September, 1701, between the Emperor Leopold, King William, and their High Mightinesses, which Article is conceived in these Words, "But if an Agreement can now be made concerning the Satisfaction and Security often mentioned, or, if after a War entered into out of Necessity, Peace shall be again restored, then, still, after such an Agreement, or Peace is concluded, be, and always continue, between the contracting Parties, a Defensive Alliance for the Maintenance of the said Agreement, or Peace." For altho' this Treaty was afterwards ratified by the late British Ministry, and then given this State made in Peace at Utrecht, without the Concurrence and Consent of the Emperor, against the express Tenor of the 15th Article of that Treaty, it appears nevertheless, that this State supposes that Treaty to be still in force, and that in the Treaty of the Barrier made at Antwerp the 15th of November last, and Ratified Jan. 14. it is particularly mentioned, That an Agreement ought to be made, according to what had been stipulated by the said Treaty of 1701, upon which concerns the reciprocal Interests of the Three Parties contracting, namely the Emperor, Great Britain, and this State; and particularly with Respect to the Manner whereby the Security of the Netherlands may be established. And this is what the Emperor's Minister here has alledged to the principal Members of the State. Besides that, in the renewed Treaties made between the Crown of Great Britain and this State, in February last, there is made towards the End of the second Article, among others, of the Treaty of Succession and Barrier made at Utrecht the 20th of January 1713, where provisionally it is contained what may be afterwards added or altered in the Barrier-Treaty of Antwerp. But all this some Members of this State, according to the Suggestion of a certain Minister, oppose; alledging among other things, that since it is supposed the Grand Alliance will subsist, there is no need of making another. And if after all we are obliged to enter into one, we ought also to make the like Defensive Alliances with France and Spain, and such with other Potentates that may stand upon the same Foot. As there is no great Difficulty in distinguishing the Weakness from the Strength of these Arguments, we are persuaded that their High Mightinesses, so renowned for their Wisdom and Dexterity, will pursue what is most salutary, and convenient for the Good of the Republick.

The States General have been extraordinarily assembled, to regulate the manner wherein they shall receive his Britannick Majesty, as he passes by here, in his Journey to Hanover.

The States of Holland having consented to the Negotiation of 400000 Florins for the King of Poland, formerly mentioned, the States General have granted their Consent, and the Receiver General is actually negotiating that Sum upon Bonds in due Form.

Their High Mightinesses wrote a Letter to his German Majesty, in favour of those concerned in the Trade of the Baltick, desiring that the Goods which shall be brought this Year to Riga in Dutch Ships, may be put into the Magazines which their Correspondents have in that City, altho' they have not the Right of Burghery; which the Czar has accordingly granted.

The Sieur Fraals, and some other Deputies of Brabant and Flanders, are come hither, to regulate the Loans formerly made here for the use of those Provinces. But they are not forward to enter into the Matter, because they expect the Marquis de Prié, who is upon his way hither, and is charged with Instructions thereupon. This Minister, among other Commissions, is (as he said) immediately to confer with their High Mightinesses concerning the Governors to be settled in the Austrian Netherlands, as being provided by the Barrier Treaty, that this important Government ought not to be conferred without a previous Communication with the States, nor given to any Person who is disagreeable to them. To this he has also Orders to warn the States, to take Care that the Armaments made here by some Foreign Generals, (Langalerie, &c.) be not made use of to fortify the Enemies of his Imperial Majesty. He supposed he has also private Letters from the Triple Alliance above-mentioned, concerning the Peace of the North, the Cession of Lemberg, and the Affairs of Bonne, Huy, Liege, &c.

In the mean time Count Coingelock has demanded of the Sieur Peltier, that he should give the States some Orders to the Cities and Chateaux, &c. that are not yet returned to the Imperial Majesty, as well as to the Cities of Tournay, and in District, to conform to the Imperial Commisaries assembled in Lille, to regulate the Limits with France, these being daily, which he believes may amount to 160 Florins per Diem. That Expenses being assigned upon the said Cities, Chateaux, and Countries.

The Count de Tarcon, Ambassador of Portugal, with his suite, give another splendid Feast next Week, to celebrate the Birth of the Prince of Portugal.

The Squadron designed for the Baltick is ready to set from the Brit, and the Merchant Ships that are to go under their Convoy are arrived in the Channel, that we hourly expect News of their Departure.

Whereas several Persons are making Intereff to be Chamberlains of this City, notwithstanding Sir William Fazakerley has publicly declared, he is still capable of performing that Office, as well as when he first came to it; and has (as is generally supposed) discharged that great Trust with Faithfulness and Integrity. Now since the Forwardness of such Gentlemen may too far violence, and thereby exclude all others from making sufficient Intereff, if the Chamberlain (who is really Aged) should happen suddenly to Demise, (which I pray God forbid) 'tis thought necessary by JEREMIAH MARDO, Citizen and Goldsmith of London, humbly to Request this Vote and Intereff of all his Fellow-Citizens, in case of a Vacancy, or Change, in that Office. And as a Mark of his own Desire to do some Publick Good, he will bestow One Hundred Pounds per Annum, out of the Office, as an Augmentation, for the better Support of such honest Citizens as shall Annually be Elected Bridge-Masters, and 40 Chimers, by the Livery-Men of this City.
